

2017-2018
Step Ahead Scholarship
Instructions

Mission

The Step Ahead Scholarship Program is dedicated to recognizing and providing financial support for promising young women from the greater Memphis community who are getting 'a step ahead' by seeking their post-secondary education, and are committed to public service in the areas of academic success and effective, responsible life and family planning.

Purpose

The Step Ahead Scholarship Program provides financial assistance to eligible Shelby County female residents so that they may pursue and achieve a post-secondary degree in areas including, but not limited to, nursing, public health, education, and social services. The ultimate goal is to increase education, to lower rates of teen and unintended pregnancy, and to improve awareness of the voluntary use of long-acting, reversible contraception in the greater Memphis area.

Eligibility

Candidates must be female and between the ages of 17 and 30. Candidates must have proof of residency in Shelby County for a period of at least 2 years. Candidates must have a record of community and public service, along with good academic standing and/or demonstrate outstanding potential in their chosen field of study or career. Candidates must, through their application, demonstrate an understanding of the importance of effective life and family planning, including, but not limited to, quality education, community involvement and the benefits of long-acting, reversible contraception (LARC). Applicants must have applied to an accredited institution of secondary education at the time of application.

Application Timeline

Applications will be available February 1st.

Completed Application packets must be submitted to the Step Ahead Scholarship Committee by April 1st.

Award letters will be sent by May 15th.

Scholarship funds will be made out to the academic institutions beginning in mid-June.

Questions concerning the Step Ahead Scholarship should be directed to info@astepaheadfoundation.org. Please write "scholarship" in the subject line.

Completed Application packet, including current resume and transcripts, may be emailed to acoleman@tristatebank.com; or hard copies may be mailed to:
